

Prof. Hem Chandra Gupta

Born on 18th February, 1952 Professor H. C. Gupta appointed as Member, Union Public Service Commission on 15-05-2014. Prior to his present appointment, he had served as Professor of Indian Institute of Technology (IIT), Delhi. He had received his Ph.D for the studies in “Lattice Dynamics of Metals: A Pseudopotential Approach” in 1972 from Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi. He was the recipient of Fulbright Fellowship (USEFI) and South-South Fellowship (TWAS) Trieste, Italy. He has authored more than 219 national and international research papers. He has written one book and one review article, edited one book in Hindi and supervised more than Twenty four students for their Ph. D Degree. He was also Co-investigator in-charge of eleven research projects. His research interests were thermal and Electrical Properties of Solids and Liquids, Molecular Dynamics of Low Dimensional Solids, Microwave integrated Circuits. Professor Gupta has been an eminent teacher and educational administrator. He began his career as a Lecturer in the K.M College, Delhi University in 1971. From 1981 to 2014 at Indian Institute of Technology (IIT), Delhi he had wide range of administrative experience. During his long tenure spanning 33 years, Professor Gupta held various key positions at Indian Institute of Technology (IIT), Delhi. He was the organizing Chairman, JEE (Advanced), 2013 of IIT, Delhi. Under his guidance for the first time, a new examination pattern was envisaged for entrance to the undergraduate programmes of all the IITs and the entire organizing was done very successfully. Apart from that he had contribution in the policy making for the overall development of IIT, Delhi. He had 14 year long experience in Management of Students’ affairs beginning as a warden and culminating as Dean of Students. He also served as Vice Chancellor of Chaudhary Charan Singh University, Meerut between July, 2011 to September, 2011. He was also involved in handling of confidential work in connection with GATE entrance as well as various State Entrance Examinations.

Appointed as Member, UPSC on 15.05.2014.